THE DAY'S DOINGS.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD.

SUDDEN CHANGE OF TACTICS.

Partial But Tardy Justice.

TWO REPUBLICANS GIVEN ACCESS TO THE RETURNS.

Further Examinations Promised.

WILL THE PROMISE BE REDEEMED?

Republican Vigilance Awakened.

Provisional Republicans in Augusta—The Meeting of the Executive Committee—Decision of Chairman Fox Given in Androscoggin Perhaps Reversed.

[Special Dispatch to Whig and Courier.]

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 2. A large number of confident Republicans congregated here yesterday morning in anticipation of the organization of the Senate and House of Representatives, at a meeting of the Executive Council in the Governor's Room. Present, Drinks, Chase and Pingry. Fogg was in attendance, but after one of his constitutions they admitted Hon. S. Wing and Savage, Republicans, and permitted them to examine the Androscoggin County returns for County of Androscoggin.

Further Access to Returns Promised.

No organization was effected other than now and the gentlemen were promised an opportunity to examine the Legislative returns for Androscoggin to-morrow morning.

Members of the Council here also consulted Hon. Hiram Bingay, Hon. Stephen Emery and Hon. Charles Danforth, Democratic members of Governor's Council, to give them information relative to their county and Legislative returns.

The Sudden Change of Base.

The sudden change of base since the return of the Council precipitately issued Mr. Blaine on discovering that to vote the Council would be allowed to see returns had caused considerable consternation and an explanation is called for.

Will the Returns be Redeemed?

The Republicans are waiting to see if pledges given will be redeemed or not. While a partial and tardy action has been made after the Republicans have been shamefully denied their rights for over two weeks, it is not yet safe to assume that the ultimate designs have been finally why abandoned.

The Outside Excitement.

[By Associated Press.]

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 2. 7.30. Senators and Representatives elect, or their attorneys, from every county in the State assembled here to-day. In addition there was a large outside gathering including ex-Governors, viz: Anson P. Morrill, Nelson Dingley, Lot M. Morrill, Joshua L. Chamberlain, and Nelson Dingley, Jr. The Executive Council opened their session and visited P. M., Messrs. Foster, Brown, Chase and Pingry being present. The first gentlemen who waited on them were Messrs. Wing and Savage on behalf of the county of Androscoggin. The result exhibited the returns of elections of county officers and promised these and other gentlemen to show the returns for Senators and Representatives to-morrow morning. Governor Garcelon arrived at 6 o'clock this evening. The statement made by Upton since that William L. Putnam, of Portland, was legal adviser to the Governor and Council is contradicted on the highest authority.
